CINGER 3006C11-B120FK14D4

We are pleased to add the Cinger chair to our task seating product offering. "The kind of support and adjustability that this chair has is unheard of at this price point, yet we confidently offer our standard ten-year warranty, knowing that Cinger meets our rigorous quality standards. We have even included shoulders technology into the upholstered backrest." This technology provides support to the entire spine, from thoracic through the lumbar region, and releases the user from the unhealthy "hunched-shoulder" position that is an all too common result of prolonged keyboarding or mousing.
